

Terry the Tortoise update

Terry seems very happy and settled at Shenley Fields. He looks up at people when they approach his enclosure and comes over to see them. He is also eating well. Terry came out of his enclosure for the first time today to meet a small group of children in the library. We are going to plan ongoing opportunities for children to interact with Terry both indoors and outdoors.

Terry would be really happy if you could help to find him some food in your garden at home or on your way to nursery. His favourites are dandelions, rose petals, geraniums, clover and forget me nots. We will be grateful of ongoing donations of these.
